Summary

I am a graduate of a web development bootcamp, transitioning my career from finance to technology. My background in finance has given me a strong foundation in analytical thinking, problem-solving, and attention to detail. I've always been drawn to the evolving world of technology, this led me to pursue a career in web development. I have a passion for solving problems and am excited to bring my skills and experiences to a dynamic tech environment.

Experience

University of Pennsylvania Bootcamp - Student (11/2022 - 2/2023)

Rigorous accelerated program learning fundamental web development concepts, technical skills, and working collaboratively to create and support my team members with the following group projects:

- NYTimes BestSeller App - View the best selling books of any week in a clean UI/UX experience, heading project management and RESTful API routes. Provided quality assurance testing and assisted in writing code snippets to solve one-off problems.
- Ben's Friends - An e-commerce website to purchase interesting collectables and share collections with others, where I focused on implementing an instance of Express. Assisted in troubleshooting CSS and Javascript conflicts, debugging code
- Home Goods Rental - A fullstack responsive MERN application that allows users to post or rent home goods, services and motor vehicles, with a backend focus

Allspring Global (Formerly Wells Fargo Asset Management)

Associate Director, Consultant Relations (11/2018 - 11/2022)

Lead planning, development, implementation, and support to streamline systems and create broad efficiencies. Further supported sales through providing competitive analysis, interpreting data and making recommendations.

Proposal Writer (5/2017 - 11/2018)

Collaborate with multiple departments to ensure accuracy of data in the completion of new and ongoing client relationship requests.

Associate Director, Retail Investment (11/2014 - 5/2017)

Responsible for growing relationships by providing value and becoming a trusted source of knowledge, and generating sales through analysis of territory metrics to identify opportunities.
